

SG-2

Protection Metal Grids For Fire Point Detectors

General

The protection grids are designed to protect field devices such as point detectors against accidental damage when installed in areas such as sports venues where moving objects may hit and damage these devices.

The SG-2 is specifically intended for use with point type, fire alarm detectors.

Application

Protection grids are available for:

- Point detectors

Details

- Easy to install
- Protects field devices from external damage

SG-2

Protection Metal Grids For Fire Point Detectors

Technical specifications

Physical

Physical dimensions	205 x 205 x 82 mm
Net weight	300 g

Environmental

Environment	Indoor
-------------	--------

As a company of innovation, Carrier Fire & Security reserves the right to change product specifications without notice. For the latest product specifications, visit firesecurityproducts.com online or contact your sales representative.

Last updated on 8 June 2023 - 14:57